We take care to select local suppliers ensuring the ingredients we serve you have been farmed and raised in a way which is respectful and ethical. Much of our meat is reared in Wiltshire and any charcuterie or bacon served on our menus is provided by Robert Buttle of Buttle Farm and helps us keep the heritage of the Wiltshire Cure alive. Six varieties of rare breed pigs live a charmed life on Robert's free-range farm just 5 miles from the Lansdowne Strand. Our cheeses and butter are supplied by Athelstan Farm Foods who provide an indispensable link between noteworthy local producers and chefs committed to quality.

Our Regent Room is available for private dining or meetings of up to 14 people. Please ask for further details.

All our ingredients are sourced locally where possible. Our kitchen are passionate about the food they produce and we make almost everything ourselves. Should you have any food allergies please do let us know before your order. We strive to serve you fantastic food, not fast food. Please remember at busy times that good things come to those who wait! We will never keep you in the dark and any anticipated delay will be relayed to you when you order.
